ltr No. 3836/875 of 12th January 1904 from the Comptroller to the Govt. of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore re disallowance of the temporary allowance claimed by 2nd Asst. Comptroller Mr. Krishna Row.

The Comptroller states that at the time his recommendation, the Govt. sanctioned temporary allowance of Rs. 50/= per mensem to each of the three Account Probationers during the course of their training at Madras in consideration of the small pay viz. Rs. 150/= drawn by them and the Expensiveness of living in a Presidency town like Madras; that Mr. Krishna Row having been appointed 2nd Asst. Comptroller from the date of the passing of the Examination for Enrolled Officers i.e. from 13-5-03 and his pay raised from Rs. 150 to 300 from that date, ~~when~~ his office disallowed the temporary allowance claimed by Mr. Krishna Row from the 13th May to 25th June 1903 during which period he stayed at Madras on the ground that under rule 35, Exception 2 of the P. W. Code Vol I, the British Govt. Account Officers in the P. W. D. whose pay was Rs 200

G.O. No. 4199/R-7.87-92
of 24-11-1900

Extract from the monthly Vol. put up and above were not entitled to any Presidency allowances; that as far as information is available in his office, no Civil Account officers attached to the office of the Accountant General, Madras (whose pay is Rs. 200 and above) are granted any Presidency allowances and that he has described the case for the orders of Govt. as Govt. Brisbane alone is the proper judge of the circumstances.

Govt. Krishna Rao contends that the Govt. sanctioning the grant of the allowance of Rs. 50/- to each of the Probationers during the period of their stay at Madras; that as the nature of the allowance is made sufficiently clear by the order of Govt, the allowance cannot be regarded as being attached to his appointment as Account Probationer instead of being attached to the place as has been especially ordered by the Govt where he was required to stay and that he was entitled to that allowance (& drawn it) so long he was required by the Accountant General to stay at Madras that his appointment as Asst. Controller Gr. 13th May 1903 was determined by different considerations altogether; and that if he should lose the allowance from 13-5-03 to 28-6-03 he would have been denied for the period, the remuneration which was intended to be a compensation for expense, the necessity for which was recognised by the Govt. when they sanctioned the allowance.

It is my humble opinion that Mr M. N. Krishna Rao is entitled to the 50 Rupee allowance for the whole time he was in Madras Notwithstanding the fact that he got a promotion in the meantime.

Under the rules as they stood previous to the new rules coming into force, Mr. Krishna Rao was entitled to draw special allowance for the whole time he was in Madras during the examination. Under the new rules he is entitled to draw special allowance only for the period during which he was actually employed in connection with the examination.

SIR,

With reference to Government Order No.4139/RFS7-82 da
24th November 1900 sanctioning a temporary allowance of Rs.3
month to each of the Mysore Account Probationers during the
of their training at Madras, I have the honor to state that British Government, Account Officers in the P.W.Department ( Assistant Examiners & others) whose pay is Rs.200 and above not granted Presidency allowances vide rule 33 exception 2 o P.W.Code Vol: I, nor are the Civil Account officers attached the office of Accountant General, Madras (whose pay is Rs.20 above) granted any Presidency allowances as far as informati available in this office. In consideration of the small pay by our Account Probationers i.e. Rs.150, and the expensiven of living in a Presidency town like Madras, the Comptroller mended that they might be granted an allowance of Rs.30 duri their stay at Madras, and that the Government in sanctioning allowance accordingly, clearly say that the temporary allowan recommended to the Probationers are also sanctioned vide pa of the Government order under reference. But Mr. Krishna R having been appointed 2nd Assistant Comptroller from the dat passing the examination for enrolled office i.e. from 13th 1903 and as his pay was raised from Rs.150 to Rs.300 from th

date this office disallowed the temporary allowance claimed by him as Account Probationer from 13th May to 20th June 1903 on the ground stated above but this officer doubts the propriety of the retrenchment (vide his letter dated 17-12-'03 herewith sent) I therefore beg to submit the case for orders of Government.

The Comptroller to the Government of Mysore.

Sir, I was deputed to undergo training in the Accountant General's office madras on the same terms as the other 2 Probationers. Vide G.O. No 29. dt 29.8.02. When the training of these Cadets was ordered an allowance of Rs 50 pm was sanctioned by the Govt. My training terminated on 28th June 03 as intimated to you by the Accountant General in his no 77 dt 25.6.03 and I have drawn the allowance only upto this date and it has been admitted by you.

The first order appointing me Second Assistant Comptroller was dated 18th August 03 and on my representation, the Govt were pleased to confirm me as Second Asst Comptroller from 13th may 03. On receipt of this latter order I prepared a bill for the difference of pay due to me from 13th may 03 to 18th August 03 as I have drawn for this period, pay at the rate of Rs 150 pm which was my pay as Account Probationer. In auditing this bill you have disallowed a portion of the claim at the rate of Rs 50 for the period from 13.5.03 to 28.6.03. The reason assigned for this retrenchment, I gather from the Office order passed, is that the allowance was sanctioned to me as Account Probationer and it cannot therefore be passed to me as Assistant Comptroller. I submit that the allowance was not attached to my appointment as Account Probationer. I beg to invite your kind attention, in this connection to G.O. No 4199 / 1787-92 dt 24-11-00 from which you will observe that the Govt sanctioned "the grant of the allowance of Rs 50 to each of them the Cadets during the period of their stay at madras". The nature of the allowance as made sufficiently clear by this Govt order and I confess I cannot understand how it can be regarded as being attached to my appointment as Account Probationer in stead of being attached, as has been explicitly ordered by the Govt, to the place where I was required to go and stay.

So long as I was required by the Accountant General to stay at madras I believe I am entitled to the allowance. My appointment as Assistant Comptroller from 13th may 1903, was determined by different Considerations altogether.

I have drawn the allowance only for the period during which I stayed at madras but I am now made to forfeit the allowance for a portion of this period viz from 13th may 1903, the date of my Confirmation w 28th June 1903, the date on which I was relieved in the Accountant General's office madras and I beg to submit that I feel very doubtful if the order of the Govt Confirming me from the 13th may 1903, entailed on me, as now ruled by you, the disability of disentitling me to the allowance which was expressly sanctioned for my stay at madras. If my rank and status were advanced during a part of my stay at madras, I submit that this is a reason more for the allowance being increased rather than for its being taken away altogether. If I should lose the allowance from 13.5.03 to 28.6.03 according to the order of retrenchment passed by you, I shall have been denied for the period, the remuneration which was intended to be a Compensation for extra expense, the necessity for which was recognised by the Govt when they sanctioned the allowance.

I beg you to be so good as to reconsider in the light of this representation, your order of retrenchment and permit me to draw the allowance which has been sanctioned by the Govt for the entire period of my stay at madras w[illegible] the representation is not convincing, I request You to do me the favour of submitting it to the Government for orders.

I beg to remain

Your most obedient servant
